givers and patients, and discuss a variety of settings.

Health Care Institutions in Flux: Changing Reimbursement Patterns in the 1980s. Edited by Warren Greenberg and Richard McK. F. Southby. Information Resources Press, 1700 N. Moore St., Arlington VA 22209, 1984. 185 pages. $24.95, plus $2.10 postage and handling. This book covers the proceedings of a conference held at the George Washington University in the fall of 1983, sponsored by the University's Institute of Health Policy and Administration. Written in nontechnical language, it covers current reimbursement methods, all-payer systems, DRGs, cost containment, cost shifting, role of insurers, effects of technological innovation, and competition and regulation in the medical marketplace.

The Care of the Soul. By Robert W. Schlicht. "The Care of the Soul," 520 West Main St., Belle Plaine MN 56001, 1984. 551 pages, $15.95. This monograph is written from the perspective that "the care of the soul is the soul of care." The principal subject of this book is a series of "Devotions for the Elderly" and "Devotions for Times of Bereavement."

Access for the Handicapped: The Barrier-Free Regulations for Design and Construction in All 50 States. By Peter S. Hopf and John A. Raeber. Van Nostrand Reinhold Co. Inc., 135 W. 50th St., New York NY 10020, 1984. 701 pages, $56.50. This manual provides a quick, easy-to-follow, graphic summation of the access for the handicapped laws and regulations in all states. In addition, it includes federal minimum requirements and the national consensus standards, such as BOCA, ANSI, and the Uniform Building Code. The architect-authors use diagrams and charts conveniently arranged by topic to provide the information at a glance.

The Addison-Wesley Photo-Atlas of Nursing Procedures. By Pamela L. Swearingen. Addison-Wesley Publishing Co., Medical/Nursing Division, Sand Hill Road, Menlo Park CA 94025, 1984. 640 pages, price not given. The atlas features a nursing process organization and describes the essential procedures required of the general duty nurse. It details more than 300 nursing procedures and guidelines, using over 1500 photographs.

Caresharing: How to Relate to the Frail Elderly. Edited by V. Katherine Gray. Ebenezer Center for Aging, 2722 Park Ave. South, Minneapolis MN 55407, 1984. 108 pages, $12. The basic premise of the book is that people in the caring situation, i.e., family members, medical professionals, social service personnel, friends support network, all have a role, but no one is completely responsible for all the care or the outcome of caring for the frail elderly. "Caresharing" is an attempt to show the caring relative how to share the care with as many people, including the older person, as possible.

Effective Marketing for Long-Term Care Facilities. By Muriel F. Pyle. White Pine Publishing Co., Suite 19A, 2885 East Aurora St., Boulder CO 80309, 1984. 260 pages, $129.95. This manual presents ideas and public relations strategies designed to attract the private-paying patient. Tips on making use of free public relations, planning media events, establishing cost-effective mailing lists, advertising through the various media, and gaining the attention of key decision makers are supported by samples adaptable to any nursing facility.

Handbook of Living Will Laws 1981-1984. Society for the Right to Die, 250 West 57th St., New York NY 10107, 1984. 100 pages, $5. This handbook includes a checklist chart for quick reference to key provisions of Living Will laws in the 23 states that have enacted them. Also included are the texts of the 13 statutes published since 1981, amended laws, the artificial feeding controversy, and new trends in proxy appointments.
